JEWISH CARE

Welcome to Stella & Harry Freedman House

Stella & Harry Freedman House offers nursing and residential care, including dementia care in a modern, Jewish environment. The home forms part of a larger campus that is the Betty and Asher Loftus Centre.

The 120 en-suite rooms are spread over three floors of the care home. Each floor has its own care manager and dedicated staff to meet the unique needs of every resident, coming together as a vibrant community. The home provides a friendly and stimulating social environment, with a dedicated activities coordinator who organises a varied activity programme with a personal approach.

As part of the Betty and Asher Loftus Centre, residents benefit from shared amenities such as a café and shop and often attend enriching events held at the Pavillion, as well as being able to attend the Sam Beckman Dementia Centre.
