JEWISH CARE

Welcome to Jack Gardner House

Based in Golders Green, Jack Gardner House gives a warm, friendly and safe environment to young Jewish people who have mental health needs. Residents benefit from support in keeping their autonomy, maintaining friendships and family relationships.

The modern and welcoming home has 15 rooms and provides a strong Jewish environment. Each resident is supported to be as independent as possible with the help of their personal support plan, their peers and the dedicated staff. All residents have their own bedroom with access to WiFi, which they can connect their personal laptops, phones and other devices to.

Jack Gardner House's main ethos is to empower and enable people to recover and live a life which is meaningful and fulfilling to them.

We work in partnership with JAMI and other health and social care services to provide the best possible advice and support for residents.
